Public Health News

The fly season is fast approaching, and it behooves us all to be aware and take care.

House flies breed only in manure, principally in horse manure but also in pig manure and in, open privies. The flies feed on practically everything that is objectionable and often dangerous, and in addition on food that is intended for human consumption. In feeding they always wash a little of their last meal off onto the food they are about to eat. You are quite justified in hoping that a housefly which settled on your food to eat, ate something clean for its previous meal, but it seems rather improbable that it did.

To control the housefly (a) do not allow manure to accumulate in heaps, (b) Use Chloride of Lime in privies, or better still 1/2 pound Borax to 3 gal. water. The privies are a most serious source of Typhoid and Diarrhea.

The blow flies of spring and fall breed only in dead animals. They are dangerous and occasionally lay their eggs on the open sores of man and animals. This causes great pain and sometimes death. A dead horse or cow can raise a half a million blow flies, and a dead sheep a quarter of a million. Therefore do not leave dead animals lying around—these flies can fly three or even ten miles from the place where they are bred. During the winter they hibernate and during the spring they become active. The eggs they lay become maggots within a few hours, these will liquify and consume meat.

To control blow flies (a) Burn or bury all dead animals, (b) Use fly sprays, (c) Never leave meat exposed in a house.

The small black flies often seen in a house, breed in the soil of potted plants or in decaying vegetation, often in the vegetable cellar or basement.

The following communicable diseases have been reported during the past month in the Foot-hills Health Unit: Chicken Pox, 59; Mumps 32, Rubella 33, Scarlet Fever 2.

ever seen in Southern Alberta. More details with regard to the water show will appear at an early date.

High River Church Scene of Wedding

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place in the Chalmers Presbyterian Church, High River, on Saturday, May 5th at 5.30 p.m., when Alice Eleanor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Linstead, and Roger Allen Somerville, second son of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Somerville of Vulcan, were united in marriage.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Kemlo. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a light brown heather tweed suit and hat to match and carried a white bible topped with sweetheart roses and white streamers.

The bridesmaid, Miss Norma Linstead, sister of the bride, wore a light blue gabardine suit with hat to match. Her corsage was yellow roses.

The groom was attended by Peter Langdon of Moose Jaw, Sask. Stanley Mainland of Vulcan sang "Through the Years."

Bouquets of white and pink snapdragons and foliage, decorated the altar.

For the occasion, the bride's mother wore a navy blue afternoon dress, while the groom's mother chose a flowered jersey; both mother's corsages were gardenias.

The reception was held at the Riverside Motel. The table was beautifully decorated with pink and white snapdragons. A three-tiered cake with miniature bride and groom, centered the table.

Rev. J. Kemlo proposed the toast to which the groom fittingly responded.

The young couple left later by car for a honeymoon in the United States. For travelling the bride donned a white top coat and accessories to match.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Somerville will reside on the farm east of Vulcan.

Out-of-town guests were from Moose Jaw, Sask., and Calgary. A message of congratulations sent by the groom's brother, now in N. Carolina, was also an event on the occasion.

Evening Ceremony At Calgary Church

Pastel-toned carnations and snapdragons intermingled with fern and palms formed a floral setting in St. Michael and All Angels Church for an early evening wedding ceremony recently when Miss Dorothy Margaret Mainwood exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Arthur Bernard Fitzpatrick.

Rev. C. E. Reeve performed the nuptials for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mainwood of Calgary, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fitzpatrick of Vulcan.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a long fitted bodice from which a full skirt billowed into a short train. The neckline was trimmed with seed pearls, and her fingertip veil, embroidered with pearls, fell from a pearl encrusted coronet. She carried a white prayer book decorated with Sweetheart roses.

Miss Marion Pettinger was the bride's only attendant, wearing a pale orchid gown of embroidered eyelet organza which was fashioned similarly to the bride's dress. Yellow carnations and violets composed her bouquet.

The bride-groom was attended by Mr. Ernest Mainwood, brother of the bride, and ushering the guests to their places were Mr. Jack Evans and Mr. Ronald Menard. Miss Jessie Cadman, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love", and the wedding music was played by Mr. D. E. Houghton.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McNeill and the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. McNeill.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick spent their honeymoon in Edmonton and are now making their home in Calgary. For travelling the bride donned a suit of imported worsted flannel in morning glory blue with a matching fingertip shortie. Navy blue accessories completed her ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick will make their home at 2425-1A St. S. E., Calgary.

Cuttings may be placed in bundles in the trench, covered completely with soil, and left until an opportunity to plant them occurs.

Hackney Stallions exported to Canada and the United States have brought $50,000 to Great Britain during the past six weeks.

The Royal Maundy Service At Westminster Abbey

His Majesty the King, accompanied by Her Majesty the Queen and Her Royal Highness the Princess Margaret recently attended Westminster Abbey for the Royal Maundy Service.

His Majesty the King distributed the Royal Maundy Money.

Fine Weather Prevails

District Seeding Work Now In Full Swing

Fine, warm weather has prevailed this week following last week's big rain, and in most parts of the district farmers are busy on the land with seeding operations.

In some parts of this district, mostly east of town, land was still too wet on Wednesday to allow seeding to begin, but another day or two of warm, dry weather was expected to correct this condition.

Local gardens are making good growth under the stimulus of plentiful moisture and warm sunshine, although trees and shrubs are not yet out in leaf.

Seeds in Canada: Vice-Admiral The Mackintosh of Mackintosh, chief of the Gaelic Society of Inverness, said at the 80th anniversary dinner of the society last week it was not generally realized that there were more people of Scottish descent outside Scotland than in it. Canada, with almost 1 1/2 million, had the lion's share.

Difficulty With Postal Deliveries

The recent change in mail service in Calgary has had various repercussions and one of them is the slow and somewhat uncertain delivery of the Advocate to our Calgary subscribers.

We wish to point out that the Advocate is published and delivered to the Post Office every Thursday afternoon and the Calgary papers are despatched on the evening train to Calgary every Thursday night.

Therefore, if the papers are late in reaching our Calgary subscribers, don't blame the Advocate or the Vulcan post office. The staffs of the Advocate and the Vulcan post office do their part in seeing that the papers are sent out on time each Thursday and from that point on we have no control over time of delivery.

H.S.A. Amateur Night Attracts Good Audience

The Amateur Nite, sponsored by the Vulcan Home and School Association, under the capable direction of Mrs. N. K. Budd and Mrs. D. Schierman, held Friday evening in the Armouries, drew a good crowd and judging from the applause, an appreciative audience. It was to be regretted that there were not more entries, but those who did compete showed skill and considerable talent.

Prizes awarded were: Piano Solo—Junior, 1st, Margaret Wilford; 2nd, Tie, Anne Jamison and Marjorie Robinson. Senior Class: 1st, Terrie McAfee; 2nd, Donnie Chow. Elocution: Janice Bertrand, been active with the Red Cross Club; 2nd, Anne Oldfield. (Due to the few entries in this number, all were grouped together, and not classified). Tap Dancing, Junior Classification: Duet, Caroline Haga and Ora Urquhart; Senior Classification: 1st, Tie, Jay Scott and Susan Herman; 2nd, Barbara Budd. Vocal Solo, Senior: 1st, Warden Budd (the adjudicator termed this entry as outstanding); 2nd, Duet, Colleen Haverly and Madeline Love.

Interspersing the contest numbers was a fine program of adult entertainment consisting of vocal solos by Mrs. Lillian Lancaster, accompanied by Mrs. Almond; selections by Ray Flitton; and a clever reading, "A Letter to the Folks Back Home" given by Mrs. J. P. O'Connell, suitably attired in a complete soldier's regalia.

The adjudicator for the amateur numbers and Master of Ceremonies was Mr. A. Duncap, popular announcer of amateur programs over radio station C.F.C.N. Mr. Duncap proved a highly entertaining commentator and praised the performance of the local young people.

Visit your doctor and dentist regularly for periodic medical and dental examinations. These are necessary if body and teeth are to be kept in good condition.

Proposed export of Alberta's natural gas will mean additional heavy royalties for the province if it can be shipped cheaply enough to compete with other fuels in the big markets of the Northwest U.S.

Interesting to note that General MacArthur, as a five star general, will continue to draw his full pay and allowances, $18,760 a year. Five star generals never retire in the United States and so he will continue to be subject to the orders of military superiors until he dies.

New Swimming Instructor For Memorial Pool

Don Whiteman, of the University of Saskatchewan, will be the program director at the Vulcan Memorial Swimming Pool this season.

He has just completed his third year at the University of Saskatchewan, where he is specializing in Physical Education. Don has been active with the Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety Program in Saskatchewan and has had 10 years of practical instructional experience.

It is felt that the expanded program this year will round out the activities of local instructors since the pool opened.

Vulcan has always been the forerunner in promoting swimming lessons and has been fortunate in having a corps of six local boys as instructors: David Mitchell, Donald Mitchell, Duane Neville, Dale French, Jerry LaRoche and Mervin Brooks who rate among the best in the province of Alberta.

Next week's edition of the Advocate will carry a full page regarding the operation and activities of the pool this year.

Youth Rally Is Well Attended

Approximately 250 people attended the Evangelical Youth Rally in the I.O.O.F. hall at Vulcan last Sunday evening.

Many special vocal and instrumental numbers were rendered by young people from various points in Alberta. Rev. T. E. Jeske, Conference Superintendent of the Evangelical Church, spoke on the subject: "Let Us Crown Him Lord of Lords and Lord of Our Lives." Ministers from Boieson, Calgary, Three Hills and Warner attended the rally.

Beginning May 13, regular evening services will be held in the Evangelical Church opposite the Drill Hall.

Pasteurized milk is the only milk safe for human consumption. Persons living in isolated or other areas where pasteurized milk is not available should write to the Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto 5, Ont., for home pasteurization information.

Strength Now Over 140

Highlanders Plan Weekend Scheme and Calgary Trip

The local Reserve Army unit, "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders, is planning to participate in a weekend scheme in the Stavelly area, June 9-10.

The local unit, with headquarters at Vulcan and outlying platoons at Blackie, Milo, Lomond and Champion, now has a strength of over 140 and it is expected that a majority of the members of the Company will join with the Calgary and Stavelly companies of the battalion in the overnight scheme in the foothills. Present plans are to leave Vulcan Saturday afternoon and be back home Sunday afternoon.

With the present training season drawing to a close late in June, an event that is being anticipated by the local reserve army men is a trip by all platoons of the company to Calgary on June 13. Practically all members of the company have signified their intention of participating in this special parade, when the local company will join with the Calgary company for an inspection by Major-General Chris Vokes, G.O.C. of Western Command. Wives of the local reserve army men will accompany their husbands on this occasion.

Recent promotions at Company H.Q. include those of Sgt. W. A. Shields to the rank of Warrant Officer Class II and his appointment as Company Sergeant-Major, and of Sgt. Edward Arney Jr. to the rank of Staff-Sergeant and his appointment as Company Quartermaster.

Col. H. T. R. Gregg of Calgary, Commanding Officer of the Calgary Highlanders; Capt. C. A. Endes, Adjutant; and Capt. Gordon Lee attended the regular parade of the Vulcan Company on Tuesday evening and arrangements were made to have additional training equipment, such as carriers and more powerful radio sets, sent to Vulcan.

TAKE TIME WHEN PLANTING TREES

Shelterbelt trees usually arrive from the nursery during the rush of spring work, and the farmer sometimes finds it difficult to take time out to plant them as carefully as desired. P. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture, Alberta Department of Agriculture, advises that rather than rush the job it is better to heel-in the trees temporarily and leave the actual planting until there is sufficient time to plant them properly. Heeling-in does not take long, and if the work is done well the trees will remain in good condition until there is time to move them to their permanent location.

One of the best ways to heel-in the trees is to plow a furrow in an east-west direction in a well drained, sheltered spot. The garden area or the north side of a building is usually suitable for this purpose. Some farmers report success by merely digging a hole and placing in it the bundles of trees as they arrive, but it is considered better to open up the bundles and spread the trees loosely with the roots in the furrow. Cover the roots with soil and pack firmly.

Before turning the valve which started Alberta oil flowing into tankage at Sarnia refinery, Premier Leslie M. Frost boarded the Imperial Leduc, largest lake tanker in the world, and congratulated her master, Capt. T. K. R. Knight, of Sarnia, on his new command. The ship was built to carry Alberta oil from the terminal of the Interprovincial Pipe Line across the Great Lakes to Ontario and picked up her first cargo as soon as navigation opened on the upper lakes. The arrival of Alberta oil in Ontario, the Premier said, makes Canada more self-sufficient and marks the beginning of a new phase in the progress of our country.

Oil from the Sarnia area once moved west into the prairies but now Alberta oil moves east to serve the homes and industries of Ontario, Premier Leslie M. Frost of Ontario said at a ceremony marking the first delivery of Alberta crude oil via pipe line and tanker to Sarnia. Stating the event was a milestone in Canadian economic history, the Premier said it meant a bigger market for the west and would make Canada more self-sufficient in oil supplies. Here, a refinery employee Wm. Taylor watches, Premier Frost turns a valve to start the first oil flow from the Imperial Leduc, world's largest lake tanker, into shore tankage.

My Old-fashioned Sweetheart

I first became a lover when a baby, so they say,
And now as then I love the one who stole my heart away.
My love for her was kindled by my Father up above,
Who placed the spark within me and her charms soon fanned to love.

The numberless caresses, like her pretty constant smile
And lullabies she sang me as she cuddled my heart away.
In memory bear witness to the happy days I knew
When I, though just a baby, was an ardent lover too.

I learned to love her more and more in boyhood for you see
She was a boon companion—and a heroine to me—
For when misfortune threatened me she always hovered near,
Protecting me or comforting if I succumbed to fear.

If I was ill she tended me with gentle, loving care;
And when my life was ebbing out she won the day with prayer:
Incessantly she prayed for me to Him who dwells above
Till words she spoke I guess awoke compassion for my love.

With unrelenting ardor mother loved me all her years
Though I was rude to her at times and caused her many tears.
I feel ashamed when I recall the many sleepless nights Induced by me when selfishly I overlooked her rights.

'Twas burdens that I gave her added furrows to her brow,
And made her back that once was strong, so weak and weary grow.

Her fond love never altered though, which seemed to me so odd,
That I soon formed a notion that she was akin to God.

The paltry words I write or say I know can ne'er repay
The love, or joyous blessings that she gave me day by day.
But still today I fain would praise my pilot for her skill;
The hand that rocked my cradle once influences me still.

Now she has crossed the Golden Strand to dwell in peace afar,
I'm proud that she will always be my faithful guiding star:
That she will lead me Home at last when life for me is old,
When My Old-fashioned Sweetheart with joy I shall behold.

Of all old-fashioned flowers in His Garden ever grown,
The very rarest flower is the Sweetheart I have known.
And now I know since she has gone to Heaven's blissful shore
There must be more of blissfulness than e'er was there before.

Though friends she has upon the Shore rejoice and sing with mirth,
The Angels must be jealous of her loveliness and worth.

For she must be the loveliest, beyond a doubt supreme:
And, sweetheart still, my mother will be Heaven's dearest dream.

—V.A.C.

Grass Hay

Much is heard at present about "grassland farming", a type of agriculture that is causing a shift in livestock population from the ranges to the irrigated areas of the continent. Grassland farming is not confined to irrigated lands however as ranching in itself is grassland farming. There are many areas throughout our range country that would benefit immeasurably through reseeding to cultivated grasses and legumes. It would therefore be of interest to examine the relative merits of the old-time "prairie wool" and some of our more recent cultivated forage grasses.

"Prairie wool" is a name given by the early settlers to a mixture of native grass species. Generally speaking, the term "prairie wool" refers to the hay crop obtained from areas other than slough bottoms and the like. The crop is usually cut every second year in those areas which normally receive good moisture and is only cut in exceptionally good years in the drier parts of the province.

The grass species vary widely with the locality. For instance, in the shortgrass zone of Alberta, the species would consist of a mixture of blue grama grass, June grass, spear grass, and western wheat-grass. Further west and north, in what has been called the mixed grass prairie, the species would again consist of spear grass, June grass, and western wheatgrass, and would contain in addition some porcupine grass. In the foothills zone, the term would refer to a mixture of rough fescue, Parry's oatgrass, and Idaho fescue.

"Prairie wool" makes an excellent feed that is high in nutritive value largely because of the mixture of grasses which it contains.
In addition, because many of these grasses cure on the stem the nutritive value is maintained and the hay crop can be cut over a longer period of time. It is, and will continue to be, a very important part of the feed supply in many areas.
However, prairie wool does not compare, in terms of yield, with cultivated forage crops which are adapted to the area in question. In the drier parts of the province crested wheatgrass is the outstanding grass for both pasture and hay as it is the most drought resistant species available. As a hay crop it should be cut just at the right stage in order to obtain best quality. With this grass the best quality is obtained if it is cut before heading and flowering.
Brome grass requires more moisture than crested wheatgrass and does very well in the foothills and the area adjoining. This grass does not drop in quality as rapidly as crested wheatgrass so that it is safe to cut it over a longer period of time.

Subsidies In Canada

(Alberta Wheat Pool Budget, April 20, 1951)

The turmoil which has been raised in Eastern Canada over the $65 million federal grant to the Wheat Board to make a final payment of 8.3c a bushel for wheat in the 1945-49 pool, is, and should be, resented in Western Canada. One would think that the western wheat farmers were mendicants and they alone of all classes in Canada received special treatment. That is far from the case.

H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, has listed some federal government subsidy payments made to groups and industries other than farmers, in the 1949-50 fiscal year as follows:

Subsidy for Canadian gold mines $13,715,778; Subsidy on movement of coal $3,919,000; Subsidy on steel and iron $4,662,251; For unemployment insurance $45,059,588; Subsidy for judges' (114) pensions $458,937.

Then special depreciation on $514 million invested was allowed war industry during World War 2.

The Canadian tariff in itself operates in the nature of a bonus to Canadian industries and is oppressive particularly to people residing in the prairie provinces of Western Canada. In the early 1930's the late Hon. Horman Rogers, minister of labor in the Canadian government, prepared a table showing how each province in Canada was affected by the Dominion's tariff policy.

That table showed that at that time the Canadian tariffs cost the people of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta $54,925,000 a year, or an annual average charge of $23 on every man, woman and child in the three provinces. With the expansion of Canadian industry and western purchasing, the figures may now be doubled.

The table also showed that the provinces of Ontario and Quebec had an annual gain through the tariff of $83.7 million.

The $65 million grant by the federal government to the Wheat Board permits a payment of 4½c a bushel on 1,736 million bushels of wheat delivered by the farmers of Western Canada between 1945 and 1949 inclusive. It brings the total payment up to a little over $1.83 a bushel, basis 1 Northern at the terminal, on total deliveries.

Between March 1, 1945, and February 17, 1947, the Wheat Board sold 160 million bushels of wheat for domestic consumption at $1.25 a bushel when the export price was $1.55. That was a direct subsidy by the wheat producers to Canadian consumers to the extent of $48 million.

The prairie provinces of Western Canada constitute a land area of 452 million acres, of which 117 million are in occupied farms, 65 million acres being improved lands. This is one of the most productive farming regions in the world.

During the war this area produced nearly 5½ million bushels of grain, over 5 billion pounds of beef, and 8.6 billion pounds of pork. This production resulted in Canadian people being among the best-fed in the world, and also provided 3.1 billion pounds of pork and 600 million pounds of beef for export to Great Britain.

While Canada has experienced a growing industrialism, which strengthens the nation's economic fabric, agricultural production is still the mainstay of the national economy. The farmers of Western Canada, under the constant risk of drought, hail and insect pests, have rendered an exceptional contribution to the progress of the Canadian nation. "Without a west" Canada would not be much of a nation.

Immunization is the first line of defence against such communicable diseases as diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox. Parents and guardians should not neglect their children in this respect.

WEED CONTROL THAT WORKS IN ALBERTA!

Magrath Man More Than Satisfied With Results

Mr. George Fellger, Magrath, says, "I treated 400 acres of spring wheat with SHELL WEEDKILL Ester 2,4-D and am more than satisfied with the results. The yield was at least 6 bushels per acre better than the strips that were not sprayed. The lack of weeds made harvesting operations much simpler and of course less dockage at the elevator. I would not hesitate in recommending SHELL WEEDKILL to anyone."

You'll get results from Shell Weedkill 2,4-D used in Cockshutt low volume sprayers. You get positive weed control resulting in increased yields as high as twenty bushels an acre!

Shell Weedkill 2,4-D—Ester or Amine—is available now at your local Cockshutt Dealer. Talk over your weed problems with him. He has the latest information on the best usage and dosage for your crop requirements.

Farmers Can Help Agriculture Census

Farmers can aid greatly in the work of the 1951 Census to be taken in June, by having answers ready for the enumerator. To facilitate this, copies of the farm schedules will be distributed in advance to all farmers on mail delivery routes, and will be available to others at their local post offices.

In the first place, the enumerator will ask for the legal description for each parcel of land operated by the farmer and whether the land is owned or rented. The farmer will then be asked the acreage of each crop for harvest in 1951, and the acreage harvested and production of each crop in 1950. Questions on acreages and value of production of fruits and vegetables will be asked of those farmers who specialize in growing these commodities. The value of field crops sold in 1950 will be asked.

The farmer will be asked the number and value of farm implements on his farm. The number of each class of livestock will also be asked, and the value of sales of livestock and livestock products in 1950. Of special importance, too, will be questions on numbers of livestock sold, the number slaughtered on the farm for sale and home use. Production and sale of the farm home in May. To obtain the value of products consumed on the farm, the enumerator will also ask the value of the home-consumed farm vegetables.

Most of these questions will be easy for the farmer to answer, but some will require some figuring out. It will add greatly to the value of the census and save the farmer's and enumerator's time if all farmers would prepare answers to the questions outlined above before the enumerator arrives. Milk in the month of May will be asked, and the number of pounds of butter and cheese made on the farm, as well as the amount of milk fed to livestock and used in

Honored By Friends

Edward Stanley Robinson, who farmed west of town for 18 years, on the farm now owned by Geo. Davies, has retired from his position as road "boss" from the provincial public works department.

Mr. Robinson held this position for 20 years. The veteran farmer and road builder reached his 65th birthday on Thursday.

When he first started with the Alberta Government he was in charge of relief gangs building district roads. He was named foreman in 1935 and five years later appointed general foreman for this district.

Mr. Robinson was born in Bruce Mines, Ont., on May 3rd, 1886, came west in 1903 to Vancouver and began farming in the Carmangay district in 1914.

Recently 35 friends and members of the Lethbridge branch of the provincial civil service honored the retiring foreman at the home of N. H. Bradley, Lethbridge highways engineer for the Lethbridge district.

Mr. Bradley presented Mr. Robinson with a lounging chair and smoke stand complete with an inset electric clock.

Friday at a civil service banquet in the new Legion Veterans Centre he was presented with a purse and sum of money by J. E. B. Binns, chairman of the Lethbridge branch of provincial civil servants.

ARMADA

Mrs. Gordon Peterson was a weekend visitor to Calgary.

Six Armada High School students attended the Reid Hill dance on the 27th of April.

A lovely shower was held in the community hall on the evening of April 28th in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stocks. A large crowd attended and at the close of the dance Mrs. I. Kunkel presented the couple with a table of gifts. Lunch was served by the Community Club, after which Mr. and Mrs. Stocks passed chocolates, cigars and cigarettes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyd were Lethbridge visitors on Saturday. Last week's rain caused impassable roads in the district, but helped the grass and crops.

Frank Stocks and S. Chambers are busy pumping their sloughs over their land, with the pumping station they acquired lately.

Miss Ruth Boyd returned home on April 28th from Lethbridge, where she has been employed as a dental assistant. She will remain here until summer, when she will take employment again.

Miss Eileen Boyd spent Friday and Saturday at the home of Miss Doreen Marks.

Rev. Jacobson spent an evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Magnuson.

Commonwealth Troops in Korea

Commonwealth ground troops in Korea are at the 25,000 mark. Some 12,000 come from the U.K. and 13,000 are from Canada, Australia and New Zealand. There is also an Indian ambulance unit. Another 17,500 British troops are fighting the Communists in Malaya.

Faulty posture is responsible for many ills—a slumped body pushes stomach, intestines, and abdominal organs together in cramped quarters. Also, strained or cramped posture in the abdominal portion of the body may keep the lungs from expanding to full capacity.

Planning the Garden

Gardening is a pleasant, relaxing and profitable hobby for both town and country people. It has often been stated that the piece of ground used for the family garden is the most valuable ground on any farm, and this is no doubt true. The success of the garden like many other enterprises depends a great deal on sound planning, which involves the choice of site, use of fertilizers, preparation of the soil, choice of varieties and adequate care during the growing season.

Where the location of the garden site is not limited, a piece of ground should be chosen that is a rich loam, well drained and away from the shade. The urban gardener usually has no alternative as to location, and he must make the best of the area available. In such cases, every effort should be made to maintain soil fertility on a high level. This may be done by the application of manure and commercial fertilizer. Gardens that have been used for many years without much attention being paid to soil fertility are likely to be low in phosphorus, nitrogen, and potassium. Manure is one of the best fertilizers to use as it is a good source of organic matter as well as nitrogen and potassium. Organic matter is necessary to keep the soil in good tilth, and to maintain its capacity to hold water. Manure is low in phosphorus, and for that reason it is a good practice to use a commercial fertilizer that is high in phosphorus along with it. This type of fertilizer is called superphosphate, and is usually applied at the rate of 5 to 8 pounds per 1000 square feet.

Chemical fertilizers should not be placed where they will come in contact with the seed or very young plants. In some cases the fertilizer is broadcast over the garden, and raked into the soil. Where it is applied with the seed, a trench is dug about two inches deeper than the seed is to be sown, and the fertilizer placed in the trench, which is filled in to the depth the seed is to be planted. When fertilizer is applied by this method, one tablespoon is sufficient for 10 feet of row.

The use of suitable varieties is important. A very good reference on this subject is the pamphlet entitled "Alberta Horticultural Guide", which is obtainable without charge from any District Agriculturist's office.

The taller growing plants should be planted on the north side of the garden, where they will not shade smaller plants. Keeping a plan of the garden is an advantage where space is limited and the same area must be planted every year, as it serves as a record of the position of plantings so that the practice of changing the location of different vegetables each season may be followed.

FARM IMPLEMENT PRICES Held at Low Percentage of Increase Offer Outstanding Value for the Money

The chart above clearly shows that in the post-war adjustments to higher costs of material and labour, an outstanding job has been done in maintaining a low percentage of increase on the retail prices of Massey-Harris implements made in Canada.

Raw materials are shown at 103.7% and wages of Massey-Harris Canadian plants 119.1% increase over 1941. Yet Massey-Harris prices of Canadian-made products were increased only 53% in the same period. This is a very moderate increase indeed when compared with the index of all commodities which is up to 83.8%.

Farm implement price indices increased only 53% whereas there was an increase in the price of farm products of 82.3% and farm wage rates of 134.3%.

The great world demand for combines, tractors, and power machines has created a volume which permits high operating efficiency in relation to production and selling costs, making possible the partial absorption of the increased costs of materials and labour. Massey-Harris will continue to offer the utmost in up-to-the-minute design, quality of materials and workmanship, and price value.

Chart shows increase to October, 1950, over October, 1941, except farm wages, which show the increase to August 1950, over August, 1941.

OIL MAKES A COUNTRY STRONG

"SURE...I WAS HERE WHEN IT STARTED!"

You can bet Jimmie was on hand when the first Imperial drilling crew turned up at the farm gate. And he's been an untiring fence post superintendent ever since. But that's not all—in his short lifetime he's lived enough years to see the growth of a new major industry.

Less than five years ago Canada's oil producing industry was far from robust. Our oil fields were dwindling and produced only one barrel in every 10 we used.

Today only eight countries in the world are known to have larger oil reserves than Canada. And production this year is expected to meet about one-third of our needs.

Every barrel of this "home grown" crude lessens our dependence on other countries and brings us a step closer to self-sufficiency in oil. With oil increasingly important to our daily life in peace or war, any improvement in security of supply means new security for Jimmie and for all of us.

Canada's newest major industry gives promise of becoming one of her greatest.

Flax Varieties . . .

Three varieties of flax are recommended by the Alberta Varietal Zonation Committee for commercial production in Southern Alberta in 1951. On the Brown Soils of Southeastern Alberta, Royal is still the best variety. On the Dark Brown Soils in the central portion of Southern Alberta, Royal and Dakota are recommended. Redwing is the most suitable variety for the Black Soils of Southwestern Alberta. For the irrigated areas, Dakota is the best of the established varieties.

Royal is a late high yielding variety developed at the University of Saskatchewan. It is moderately resistant to rust and wilt. It is high in oil content but is only fair in quality. Royal is the best variety of flax under dry conditions and it also yields very well in areas of relatively high rainfall and under irrigation. However, it does not mature uniformly and is consequently difficult to harvest on irrigated land. Dakota is a relatively new variety introduced from the United States. It is resistant to rust and wilt and matures moderately early and fairly uniformly. Dakota yields about the same as Royal under irrigation but is preferable because of its more uniform maturity. Dakota is lower than Royal in oil content.

Redwing is an early variety which is best adapted to areas where earliness is essential. Redwing is susceptible to rust and is moderately resistant to wilt. It is low in oil content but yields oil of very high quality. Redwing is lower in yield than Royal on the open plains, but is equal to Royal in the foothills.
